Kauai Plantation Begins To Gain On Its Indebtedness

Stockhelders of McBryde Suga Company this morning listened to the most faverable report of the planta tion that they have ever had submitted to them. This property which has been held back for years on accoun of its inadequate water supply, seem in condition to meet al drouths, with ample electric pumping capacity and reservoirs for storing storm waters. The crop of 1909, now being harvest ed, is estimated to yield 13 500 tons, or which over 5000 tons at this date have been harvefsted. It should give u onsiderably more, but as it is, the crop will be the largest yet taken off due to the fact that our water supply has been materially increased, so that in spite of dry weather this crop is fal ing off less than others have done who a exposed to such unfavorable con di'lons. In fact the difference in th yield of the crop of 1908 and the yield of the crop of 1909, now being harvested and which can hardly help exceeding the 1908 crop by at least 2000 tons, is due substantially to more wat er during the dry summer months.

The crop of 1910 consists of 683 acres of plant cane 2105 acres of long ratoons and 150 acres of short ratoons. submit a map which shows the fields to be harvested for this crop, Additional Pumping Capacity. Within the past thirty days we have added to our pumping capacity and up the new Worthington four-stage turbine centrifugal pump at Electric Station No. 3 in Hanapepe Valley This station has been under process of construction for over a year. The new pump lifts eight million U. S. gallons per 24 hours against a total dynamic head of 442 feet. The pit for this pump is 30 feet inside diameter and 110 feet deep. It is con-structed of reinformed concrete and arranged so as to accommodate another pump of equal capacity at some future time when required.

Our pumps now consist of six electric and two steam pumps (one auxiliary and one independent) giving in the aggregate a guaranteed pumping capacity daily of thirty-five millions gailons. The new pump at electric station No. 3 lifting water as it does to an elevation where additional warer is most needed cannot but have million gallons. Operating Expenses.

Our net operating expenses for the average of $52,187.64 per month, being $30,000.00 more, due to the dry weathsteadily throughout the whole year.
